September 11

Tim McOsker: The Past, Present and Future of AltaSea

AltaSea was created to reshape 35 acres in the oldest part of the Port of Los Angeles into the most innovative ocean research campus in the world, developing solutions to the planet's most pressing problems, and preparing the next generation for jobs in science, technology, engineering and business. Chief Executive Officer Tim McOsker will provide details and insights into the growth and progress of AltaSea and the lasting mark it is making on the future, as it brings together the best and brightest in exploration, science, business and education.

Mike Galvin: Commercial Development at the Water's Edge

The LA Waterfront has been undergoing a major transformation, thanks to significant investment and improvements by the Port of LA and LA Waterfront stakeholders, and it continues to move forward with extensive development that will create jobs and bring new restaurants, retail stores, and a large entertainment venue. Mike Galvin, POLA Director of Waterfront and Real Estate, will be here to update us on current commercial projects and initiatives, including the San Pedro Public Market, AltaSea expansions, Cabrillo Way Marina, additional kayak and SUP rentals near the DoubleTree Hotel, a new boat yard on the old San Pedro Boat Works site, and an outer harbor passenger cruise terminal.

September 25

Elise Swanson: What's All the Recent Buzz About San Pedro?

San Pedro Chamber of Commerce President Elise Swanson, along with Chamber Board Members Lee Williams and Augie Bezmalinovich will be here to fill us in on issues affecting the local business community, and on how the Chamber advocates for a vital and sustainable economy.

In the tradition of the Club, the Wednesday luncheon is open to the public. Please make reservations at LAYC.org or call the Club office, (310) 831-1203, if you plan to attend. Lunch is $20+tax and visitors can pay by cash or credit card.
